Abstract (max. 10 lines)	SCIGAL aims to establish an operational European GNSS network infrastructure exploring the full potential of the GALILEO system serving high precision users in Geodesy, Geophysics, Meteorology, Timing and Navigation, superior to the existing science-driven infrastructure for GPS. To achieve this, SCIGAL will develop GALILEO tracking equipment and tools responding to the highest possible standards. It will improve scientific modelling and distribute up-to-date high precision GNSS data services, products and tools. SCIGAL will be anchored to the EUREF Permanent Network (EPN), managed by EUREF, and take advantage of the expertise in GNSS data communication and analysis within the EUREF group. This effort will be made in recognition of emerging technological and scientific trends in support of interdisciplinary Earth science research.
